HAWAII ALE
SAVINGS PROGRAM

Powered by the State of Oregon

The Hawaii ALE Savings Program launched in November 2021, partnering with the State of Oregon and their ALE for ALL Savings Plan.

For as little as $25 dollars, eligible Hawaii residents can open an account and begin to save for a variety of purchases without risking government benefits.

What Does ALE Stand For?

The Achieving a Better Life Experience (ALE) Act of 2014 gives people with disabilities who are receiving government benefits, and their families, a financial tool to put money aside for purchases to enhance their quality of life without risking the loss of those benefits (like SSI and Medicaid). The Act was modeled on the popular '529' College Savings Plan that allows tax-deferred savings for higher education.

Individuals, their families and friends can deposit up to $19,000 a year for a wide range of eligible expenses. If you are working, you can save even more. Workers can save an additional $17,310 extra every year.

Accounts that grow larger than $100,000 over the years will cause SSI benefits to be suspended.

Who is Eligible to Open an ALE Savings Plan Account?

Current eligibility is limited to persons whose disability occurred before aged 26. On January 1, 2026, the age limit will increase to age 46. To qualify, you must be eligible to receive SSI or SSDI, meet the Social Security Administration's definition of disability or possess a disability certification from a medical doctor.
